Speaking Skills

The following exercises will help you on the reading, listening, and speaking integrated task in the Speaking section.

STATEGIES FOR AN INTEGRATED SPEAKING TASK (Reading, Listening, and Speaking)

1. Be familiar with the directions. The directions are on the test and on the exam. It is not necessary to spend time reading the directions carefully when you take the test. You should be completely familiar with the directions before the day of the test.

The new directions are as easy as the exam. The time limit required will be clear. You will have a clear direction as to how you should proceed. This page may have several page breaks to separate the time of the passage and the test.

1. Be sure you have the material that you are permitted to bring to the exam. You will not be able to use your own dictionary or other reference material.

2. Take careful notes on your reading. You should be able to look at the notes and understand the passages. You should be able to understand the passages. You should be able to understand the material in the context of the question.

3. Take careful notes on the passage. You should be able to look at the notes and understand the passages. You should be able to understand the passages. You should be able to understand the material in the context of the question.

4. Use your knowledge of English to help you understand the passages.

Listening Skills

The listening portion consists of two conversations and four academic lectures. Note-taking is allowed and important for successful completion of tasks. Critical thinking, interpreting, categorizing, and understanding purpose are tested.

Reading Skills

Refer to this section of the test to answer the following questions.

Decisions

There are two passages that make up a choice of which decision to make. You are given a choice of which decision to make. The decision is given to you in the first passage. The decision is given to you in the first passage. The decision is given to you in the first passage.

Writing Skills

There are fewer passages than in the last test — but they are much longer and denser. There are fewer passages than in the last test — but they are much longer and denser. There are fewer passages than in the last test — but they are much longer and denser.

In the three longer reading passages, students are tested on paraphrasing, making inferences, and overall critical thinking.

In the new speaker section, students will

- give personal opinions on topics related to school life.
- respond to a reading and related spoken lecture.
- summarize and give opinions based on two spoken lectures.

There are fewer passages than in the last test — but they are much longer and denser. There are fewer passages than in the last test — but they are much longer and denser. There are fewer passages than in the last test — but they are much longer and denser.
NorthStar Building Skills for the TOEFL® iBT

Frances Boyd and Carol Numrich, Series Editors
In cooperation with ETS

Intermediate - Advanced

Pearson Longman and ETS combine their expertise in language learning and test development to create an innovative approach to developing the skills assessed in the new TOEFL® Internet-based test (iBT). NorthStar Building Skills for the TOEFL® iBT, a new three-level series, links learning and assessment with a skill-building curriculum that incorporates authentic test material from the makers of the TOEFL iBT.

Each text features:
• Ten thematic units to develop academic skills in English while building test-taking confidence.
• Integrated skill practice to develop critical thinking and communicative competence.
• Authentic TOEFL® iBT practice sets created by ETS especially for this series.
• Practical tips to sharpen test-taking strategies.
• Teacher’s Manuals with evaluation tools to track students’ progress, and actual student responses (speaking and writing) at all score levels

Use NorthStar Building Skills for the TOEFL® iBT with the integrated skills series NorthStar to build a strong foundation for success on the TOEFL® iBT.

Preparation for the Computer and Paper Tests
Deborah Phillips

Intermediate – Advanced

Longman Introductory Course for the TOEFL® Test
Second Edition
Geared to intermediate students with TOEFL® scores in the 380-480 range (paper test) or 80-160 range (computer test), this program pairs a comprehensive Student Book with an interactive CD-ROM. In addition to familiarizing students with the types of passages and questions in the Listening and Reading Sections, the Longman Introductory Course for the TOEFL® Test offers strategies with clearly defined steps for success.

• Student Book features diagnostic pre-tests and post-tests, as well as complete practice tests at both the introductory and TOEFL® levels.
• Scoring information and charts assist students in recording their progress.
• Audio Program includes material for use with the book.
• Student CD-ROM features more than 1,000 additional TOEFL®-format questions, practice sections to target specific skills, and test sections that simulate actual testing conditions.

Longman Complete Course for the TOEFL® Test
Focusing on skill-building strategies for more advanced students, this multimedia course provides language skills practice for each section of both the computer-based and the paper tests.

• Test-taking strategies offer clearly defined steps to improve performance.
• Diagnostic pre-tests and summative post-tests measure needs and mastery.
• Audio Program includes material for use with the book.
• Student CD-ROM features 800+ language skills practice questions, plus 900 additional questions designed to simulate the computer adaptivity, timing, and scoring of the computer-based test.
• Longman Bonus Test CD-ROM for the Computer-Based TOEFL® Test includes three section tests and two complete tests, with more than 850 new items and full simulation of the adaptivity, timing, and scoring of the actual TOEFL® Test.

These innovative multimedia courses give students the tools they need to succeed on the TOEFL® paper or computer-based format. Both programs can be used as primary test preparation texts or as supplements to other courses.

Longman English Assessment

Joan Jamieson and Carol A. Chapelle
Project Directors

Beginning – Advanced

Longman English Assessment is a computer-based test of English Language Proficiency that provides an accurate, quick, and easy way to place learners within the appropriate level. The assessment measures levels of ability in reading, listening, and written structures.

• Constructed by academic experts in assessment.
• Based on theory and research in applied linguistics.
• Piloted for item selection.
• Separate tests for each skill area: reading, listening, and written structures.
• Initial screening to direct learners to the appropriate level.
• Immediate results and personalized learning strategies following each test.

Correlated to Longman CD-ROM programs and course books, Longman English Assessment provides learners with an accurate proficiency score after they complete a course, and also documents adequate yearly progress.
