Build Your Vocabulary!

Students keep a record of new words they encounter outside of class.

Have students carry a small notebook with them as they go about their daily lives. Encourage them to write down new phrases or words they hear. At the beginning of each class, have one student volunteer to tell the class his or her new vocabulary words and expressions and the contexts in which they were found. Have the rest of the class try to guess the meaning of the words and expressions.
