

Leisure Time Group Survey

A Speaking Activity

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE TEACHER

This activity is a supplement to the second activity on page 72 of Spectrum Book One, in which students are asked to make a list of their classmates' leisure activities. Students will practice leisure time vocabulary by asking their classmates which leisure time activities they enjoy doing and filling out a survey. They will then present their findings to the class.

Give each student a copy of the following Leisure Time Activity Survey. Divide the class into groups of five. Explain that the students should take turns asking the other students in their group questions about their leisure activities. Each student will ask a question from the chart, such as "Do you watch TV every day?" Then everyone in the group will put a check mark on their survey under the number of students who answer "yes." Have the students take turns asking questions until all the questions on the survey have been asked and answered.

When the survey is completed, have each group work together to complete sentences 1–5. Using the information on their surveys, students should write five true sentences about their group. For example, if all five students in the group watch TV every day, then "All of us (five students) watch TV every day" would be a possible answer to question 1. Finally, have one member from each group report their findings to the class.

Leisure Time Activities Survey

Work in groups of five. Take turns asking the questions in the survey. Mark the number of students in your group who answer “yes” to each question. Then complete sentences 1–5.
