

> Reading

A DAY AT THE FAIR

1 Read the story and put the pictures in the correct order.

Last Saturday while I was at the fair with some friends, I got lost. I asked some people, “Did you see three boys around here?” What a stupid question! There were hundreds of boys there!

After a while I felt hungry, so I bought a hot dog and a soda. Then I decided to wait in one place and eat my hot dog and see if my friends appeared. After that I noticed a girl looking at me and smiling. I was kind of embarrassed, so I didn’t look at her, but she kept looking at me and smiling. I forgot all about my friends and I decided to be brave. I walked toward her and smiled. She pointed to her lip and stuck out her tongue. Oh no! She only wanted to tell me that I had ketchup on my face. How embarrassing!

1. _____ 2. _____ 3. _____ 4. _____

2 Read the text again and answer the questions.

1. When did he go to the fair?

Last Saturday.

2. How many friends did he go with?

3. Why was his question stupid?

4. Why did he buy a hot dog?

5. What did he drink?

6. What did he notice?

7. What did the girl want to tell him?

8. How did he feel?

> Writing

3 Write about an embarrassing incident that happened to you. Try to use the past simple and past continuous. Include these things:

- Where did you go?
- Why were you embarrassed?
- What happened in the end?

Last week I went to the movies with my friends.

When we sat down in our seats I dropped my popcorn on a lady’s head ...
