Eat to be healthy

Between school, homework, sports, and hanging out with friends, it may feel like there's no time for healthy eating. And when you do stop to eat, it's tempting to go the quick and easy route by having a burger and fries, or sweets. Even if you take time to eat three meals a day, you may still feel hungry at times. What's the answer? Healthy snacks.

Snacks are a great way to satisfy that hunger and get all the vitamins and nutrients your body needs. If you don't eat foods with lots of simple carbohydrates (sugars) like sweets or fizzy drinks, you won't put on weight. If you eat foods that contain complex carbohydrates like whole grain breads and cereal and combine them with protein-rich snacks such as low-fat yogurt or cheese, you will feel much healthier. Try putting some fruit, carrots, or wholegrain cookies in your bag so you always have some healthy food nearby.

As with everything, moderation is the key. People who eat regular meals and healthy snacks probably won't overeat and gain weight, while people who miss meals or go for long periods without eating and then fill up with an enormous plate of fries will put on weight.
