Customs

When we compare national cultures, we often begin by noticing the differences.

Japanese people do not like shaking hands. They bow when they are greeting one another and don't blow their noses in public!

Brazilians do not know how to make an orderly line when waiting for a bus.

Greeks stare into your eyes, nod their head when they mean no and actually smash plates against the walls in restaurants!

French people wipe their plates with their bread, dip pastry into their coffee, and will greet strangers in cafés.

British people eat peas with their fork upside down and play golf in the rain!

How strange people are!
