- a The sisters were wearing only T-shirts and shorts because it was summer and it wasn't cold. Then Beth felt a drop of rain on her arm. She looked up and she saw that the clouds were getting darker.
- b Hannah started to run. "Come on!" she shouted to Beth. The rain was falling very heavily now, and the girls were getting wetter and wetter. When they arrived home, they were completely wet. Their mother said, "So you went swimming in the end!"
- c On Saturday, Beth and Hannah decided to go to the park instead of the swimming pool. The weather was quite good. The sun was shining at times, but there were also some clouds that were moving across the sky quickly because the wind was blowing.
- d Then Hannah also felt a drop of rain on her leg, and then another. They decided that it was time to leave because they didn't want to get wet, so they started to walk toward the park gates. The rain was now falling much harder.
