

•VOCABULARY•

- 1 Complete the sentences with the adjectives in the box. (1 point each)

possible likely certain impossible unlikely

- I've been studying for months now, so I think I'll pass all my exams. It's likely.
- I can't get a perfect score on every test every time. It's _____.
- I don't think I'll get a very good grade in math. It's _____.
- I might get a good grade in English. It's _____.
- I'm sure I'll have to work hard. It's _____.

- 2 Complete the sentences with an expression with get in the correct tense. (1 point each)

- Gary and Patty are in love. They're going to get married.
- People buy lottery tickets because they want to _____ quickly.
- We didn't take a map so we _____.
- The train leaves at 9:00, but we have to _____ first.
- He's coming to pick you up in 10 minutes. You'd better _____.
- It's raining. You're going to _____.

- 3 Add another word (a-e) to each series (1-5). (1 point each)

- the number 13, breaking a mirror, spilling salt, walking under a ladder
 - crystal ball, tarot cards, fortune cookies, _____
 - win, save, spend, _____ (money)
 - the number 7, a rabbit's foot, knocking on wood, _____
 - certain, likely, unlikely, _____
- a. crossing your fingers
b. lose
c. impossible
d. tea leaves
e. walking under a ladder

•GRAMMAR•

- 4 Complete the sentences with might, might not, will or won't. (1 point each)

- Ed won't go out tonight. There's a huge storm.
- I'm sure they _____ arrive in a few minutes. They're very near.
- Marilyn _____ recognize you. It's been years since she saw you.
- We _____ buy a lottery ticket. It's a waste of money.
- You don't look so good. You _____ be sick.
- I think Edna is going to the mall, so we _____ see her there.

- 5 Write sentences with be going to. (3 points each)

- She / have a baby / in May
She's going to have a baby in May.
- We / travel / to Asia / this summer

- He / be / our teacher / next year

- They / get married / soon

- That car / crash into / the van

- 6 Complete the first conditional sentences with the correct form of the verb. (1 point each)

leave tell feel find eat go out do

- If you take this medicine, you'll feel better.
- They'll be late if they _____ (not) now.
- If you _____ (not) me the truth, I won't help you.
- If he _____ (not) what I say, I'll send him to bed.
- If she _____ the right man, she'll get married.

6. I _____ (not) if it doesn't stop raining.
 7. If we get there early, we _____ something before the show.

•READING•

7 Read the story and choose the best interpretation. (1 point)

1. a. Good luck is always a good thing.
 b. Bad luck is always a bad thing.
 c. Good luck might be bad and bad luck might be good.

2. Justify your answer in Exercise 7.1. (3 points)

Good luck

There is a Chinese story of a farmer who used an old horse to work the fields. One day, the horse escaped into the hills and when the farmer's neighbors heard what had happened they came to tell him they were sorry about his bad luck. But the farmer replied, "It might be bad luck. It might be good luck. Who knows?"

A week later, the horse returned accompanied by a group of horses from the hills and this time the neighbors congratulated the farmer on his good luck. His reply was, "It might be good luck. It might be bad luck. Who knows?"

The next week, when the farmer's son was trying to train one of the wild horses, he fell off its back and broke his leg. Everyone thought this was very bad luck. But the farmer wasn't so certain. His reaction as always was, "It might be bad luck. It might be good luck. Who knows?"

Some weeks later, a war began and the army came to the village to find soldiers to fight the war. They took every fit young man they could find. When they saw the farmer's son with his broken leg, they decided to leave him in the village. Now was that good luck or bad luck? Who knows?

8 Read the story again and correct the sentences by changing the underlined words. (1 point each)

1. The farmer's dog ran away to the hills.

horse
2. The neighbors thought it was good luck.

3. The horse came back with some sheep.

4. The lawyers said the farmer was lucky.

5. The farmer's son broke his arm while he was riding a wild horse.

6. The army came to the village to look for some horses for the war.

•COMMUNICATION•

9 Complete the dialogue with your own ideas. (1 point each)

A: Let me read your palm so I can make
 1 some predictions about your life.

B: OK!

A: This is your heart line. It's long!
 2 _____ fall in love and get married in the future.

B: I hope he's rich and handsome!

A: Well, this is your fate line. I'm afraid it's short, so 3 _____ be rich or successful.

B: Too bad!

A: And 4 _____ life line. It's very long! 5 _____ live a long time, if you eat a healthy diet.

B: And I think 6 _____ have a future as a fortune teller!