3 Read the following diary entry of a student on holiday with her friends. There are eight mistakes connected with like. Underline the mistakes, then make the necessary corrections.

   Me and a group of friends started our holiday together today - we all get on well together and like to spend time with each other. So far it’s been absolutely brilliant. We got a really early flight from London to Ibiza, and arrived in Ibiza around 9am this morning. The sun was shining and the sky was blue - it seemed a perfect way to start our holiday after lots of end of term exams and stress. Sam passed her driving test last year, and said she would liked to drive our hired car. It’s a great car - a small jeep with an open top roof. I phoned my brother (because he loves cars!) to tell him what the jeep look liked. The drive to our resort took us along a beautiful coastal road with lots of orange and lemon groves next to the road. I thought to myself that this is exactly liked I imagined it to be. We could see the boats bobbing around in the sea and people lying on the beach. We all liking sunbathing!

   When we arrived in our resort, we were shown to our self-catering apartment which is right next to the beach, and has a swimming pool! Sam was very hungry and said she like to go to the supermarket for some food. Our Spanish is OK, so we went to the supermarket and bought lots of fresh fruit, vegetables, drinks and bread. We decided to eat out this evening and enjoyed a lovely meal at a Spanish restaurant - we all had fresh fish and salad followed by wonderful ice creams. The restaurant look like a very traditional type of restaurant and had a great atmosphere. Everyone felt quite tired, and said they like to go back to the apartment.

   Tomorrow night, we’re going to go to a cool looking night club that we saw...

TEACHER’S NOTES:

Aim: to consolidate the uses of like. This worksheet is designed to be used in conjunction with unit 6.3.

Time: 40 minutes maximum

Materials: photocopies of the worksheet for each student.

1. This is a personalised activity to give students the chance to put the new words in their own context. Go around the class monitoring and give assistance where necessary.

2. Pair the students and explain that they have to take turns asking and answering the questions from Ex. 1. Encourage the students to use follow-up questions so that the exercise is more meaningful and relates to the real world. Monitor to check accuracy but just note down any common errors and highlight them on the board at the end.

3. Tell students to imagine they are a teacher who has to correct the diary entry. Give students time to compare their answers and correct each other’s work if necessary before checking the answers with the class.
